

Join our online Storytelling and Story Writing Workshop Series

EVERYONE HAS MORE THAN ONE STORY—SO LET THESE WORKSHOPS HELP YOU TELL ONE OF YOURS.

Workshop 1: Introduction to storytelling and writing. You get to choose, telling a story or writing a story.

Workshop 2: How to speak and write from the character's perspective.

Workshop 3: A character without conflict is boring. Learn 4 types of conflict and choose one for your character.

Workshop 4: Preparing your story for a recital. Stories can be pre-recorded. (The recital will be after the workshop series and your participation is optional)

Instructor Michael McNeely is a published film critic and journalist, filmmaker, teacher, and lawyer. He is also deaf-blind, and knows how important it is to express himself so that others can understand his experiences.

Workshop Dates: There are 4 classes included in this workshop series. The dates are January 25th, February 1st, 8th and 18th.

Workshop Time: 12pm to 1pm

Where: online on zoom
